Plodding Ox Stages Comeback Despite Modern Age of Speed

Harold Lauer a senior in Waldo High school and the yoke of oxen used regularly on the Lauer farm are pictured in the accompanying photograph The whip he holds high in his hand is used chiefly in motioning directions to the animals rather than as a persuader

Animals of Pioneer Days in Daily Use on Farm of H. A Lauer Near Norton.

BY BOB BYRD

THE humble ox which ceased to be a farm animal of general use in north central Ohio more than half a century ago is being championed on one farm near Marion for a comeback to take a place in the modern scheme of agriculture

On the farm of Herbert A Lauer a quarter of a mile west of Norton in northern Delaware county the third yoke of oxen used there in three years is seeing almost daily service and performing valuable work at a minimum of expense—rather at a profit for the owner

One of the oxen on this farm is made double unusual in that a modern young farmer figures prominently in the return to the ... light beast of burden

Harold Lauer a senior in Waldo High school who owns the oxen more than his father who is a stock dealer asserts the steers that make up the yoke of oxen now in use on the farm are smarter cheaper and just as efficient as a horse

He is of the opinion the oxen could hold their place in full scale farming operations but sees a more widespread use of them on farms where the bigger jobs of cultivation and planting are done by machinery as on the Lauer farm

Bring in Pin Money

The oxen which have attracted widespread attention and paid their owner substantial pin money for their appearance at parades can perform a multitude of small tasks around the farm just as efficiently as horses and without the expense of keeping a horse young Lauer declares

Farm machinery he pointed out has crowded out horses on many farms but there always is considerable work that the tractor is not used for and for which many farmers keep a team of horses even though they have a tractor

For example one of the oxen pulled up the hay at the Lauer barn last year The yoke of oxen haul fodder haul in corn and even took their place with horses in a threshing ring They plowed the garden haul grain and perform an endless number of tasks around the farmyard

They are as subject to sickness as horses require practically no care can pull more than horses in proportion to their weight and can be hitched in a fraction of the time to hitch a horse he said Furthermore there are no lines for the driver to hold or tie up while he is working The oxen are directed entirely by command and to a limited extent by watching the motions of the driver but can be driven entirely by word

Oxen are not as costly as horses

Commission Studies Sunday School Softball Chang

ABANDONMENT OF ELIGIBILITY RULES NEWEST PROPOSAL

Possible Action Discussed at Annual Banquet E C Siefert Elected President

Marion s ball governing hod ng la ight at the Y M C A for the annual spring banqu ed a bombshell into the S t ane l ques by indicating strongly at all elig ity restrictions may be abo ed into the old league unity

F C Jap Siefert was named president of the commission for the ensuing season by a unanimous vote of team representatives who participated in the balloting which immedia f owed re f 36 be ner Mari lfield was named vice president Elmer Shaw secretary and Pe Waldell treasurer

R G Sn wood and Robert O Connell w members of the committee wh terms expired were re elected with Clarence Sn der and Ja Spurrell ele elected to fill the vacancies created by the expiration of terms served by Thomas Wogan and W D Harter

Ignored In Past

Proposed abandonment of the Sunday school eligibility requirements which one commission member declared has consistently gone unheeded would make the 1937 pennant race in the church leagues a wide open affair from the start f the season Although a draft of the plan has not been completed it is likely that team rosters of 35 players would be required at the start of the season with any changes ineligible until about half of the summer schedule is completed

For instance any team manager could if he wished either retain his entire line up of last season or sign up only a half dozen players upon which to build a championship club The manager could then scout the city for athletes to complete his squad with but one idea in mind to put the best possible ball club on the field

Reverberations of he commission s proposal are likely to be heard from the Y M C A Methodist Church Lutheran Y M C A and numerous did not ask them wise Definite action probably will not be taken until after Executive C f Siefert has named the 19?? committee rosters

According to the constitution by laws and certified schedule will likely rest with the 1936 championship which would present a united program to the entire body for ratification or rejection If the commission members retain the frame of mind which they expressed on last night s closed session softball matters in and fans alike should be prepared to receive some radical changes in the present set up

Discuss Changes

Other possible changes in the present regulations were discussed freely with the commission holding an open mind toward any suggestion which might speed up the games and increase interest which they reported has been lagging in the past several seasons The commissioners only definite steps toward the opening of the season came in the announcement by Secretary Shaw that entry blanks will be available immediately at the Y offic

Entrance fees will remain the same as last season and the deadline for filing the entries has been set for April 1 Any team who attended the spring banquet and participated in the election of commission members but failed to file entries by the deadline Judge William R Martin of Ipworth Sailors and Henry Keller of Calvary and Kenneth Thome of the Defiance Presbyterian Church

Where the Shoe Rubs

Samuel Almendinger, Marion county representative in the state legislature, divulged some of the problems of his office in a recent conversation with County Commissioner O. C. McCurdy.

The incident took place while discussion of the emergency poor relief bill was at its peak and Mr. Almendinger was getting dozens of letters from his constituents.

"You know," he told Mr. McCurdy, "I get one request after another asking me to be sure to oppose placing a tax on this thing or that. However, no one ever has a suggestion of some other source for the tax revenue. If I heeded all of the requests, I would oppose all tax measures. People seem to know the things they don't want taxed but none of them suggest anything that should be taxed."

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbreath collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

WAR PROPERTY LOSSES

John H. Morgan, the Confederate general who caused such a furor in the north by his raids through Indiana and Ohio, had under his command a force of less than 3,000 men when he started into Indiana.

By death, exhaustion and straggling he had lost a considerable number of these before he surrendered to federal troops in Columbiana county, Ohio, and the only conflict that occurred between his force and the Union forces in that state was a skirmish at the shore of the Ohio river.

But Morgan succeeded in inflicting severe losses through Ohio. On findings by a special state commission, the total loss was fixed at $580,837.

EASTER PAGEANT AT KIRKPATRICK

An Easter pageant, "The Third Day," will be presented Sunday night at 7:30 at the Kirkpatrick Church of Christ. The pageant has been prepared under the direction of Mrs. Percy Krewson, wife of the pastor, and will be presented by a cast of approximately 20 persons.

The story is of a mother who loses her faith in God when her small son is critically hurt by a truck. Exhausted from caring for the boy, she falls asleep and dreams three episodes which affect her life profoundly on awakening.

A phonograph has been constructed that is carried in a case about the size of a watch, the sound issuing through a horn of appropriate size.

According to tests made by a Pennsylvania State College scientist 900,000,000 dust particles pass through the lungs of an average city dweller each minute.

IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY

Sixth Week—"Kindred Christian Virtues."

"CANDOR"

Friday, March 19—"Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil." Read Isaiah 5:16-23.

Of the many grounds we have for believing in God surely conscience is one of the most secure. We agree with Martin Luther that "It is dangerous to sin against conscience."

No person can be called thoughtful who has not looked with level eye at the moral mystery of conscious wrong-doing, as at the physical and emotional mysteries of pain, death, sorrow—or, who having once looked at them, tries thereafter to avert his eyes.

What hope we have that our personal religion will survive, rests in the first instance, upon a refusal to do violence to our instinctive moral judgments. No matter what expediency may counsel, we must beware of calling good evil, and evil good. There is no surer, quicker way to destroy one's sense of the reality of religion. "This above all," says the old monk in The Brothers Karamozov, "This above all, don't lie to yourself."

Prayer: Almighty God, whose kingdom rests on righteousness, save us, in our warfare with sin and wrong, from crying peace where there is no peace. From confusion of mind and from treason in the deed, deliver us, good Lord. Amen.

GAS POCKET MENACE HARD TO COMBAT

Accumulations Always Present in Drilling Areas Explode If Spark Strikes

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY March 19 [illegible] oil [illegible] gas pocket menace [illegible] hard to combat [illegible] accumulations always present [illegible] drilling areas explode [illegible] spark strikes [illegible] Oklahoman Times staff photographer from Jacksonville Texas

We reached this little oil town two hours after the blast March 18 the town was in confusion It only what we call a wide place in the road Hardly to be called a town

Bricks and tile spread from the wrecked building in all directions Ambulances picked up their burden of little bodies and sped away

Spotlights mounted on trucks sent their searching white fingers over the ruined structure

Doctors shouted their orders Men dug with bare hands into the pile of bricks and steel frantically laboring to reach crushed bodies Stretcher bearers hurried to and fro silent as they cleared the toll of death

From the mass of wreckage a story of horror is unfolded It was one of a sudden death striking in mid afternoon of a warm sunny day

An eye witness told me of the unearthly rumble which heralded the blast The roof lifted he said as if propelled by some mighty hand then fell in a ruin of horror crushing its victims in debris

With it fell a tragic curtain on this peaceful little town

[illegible] Blame Accumulated Gas

One official advanced the theory that gas accumulating in the building from the nearby east Texas oil fields one of the world's richest might have been responsible

Oil derricks are on the campus

There were 700 students and 19 teachers in the Twenty-ninth London consolidated school when an explosion yesterday razed and demolished three sprawling brick and steel units upon its unsuspecting victims

The school serves an area of 40 square miles

Eight hours after the blast a junior high school boy and girl were rescued alive from the ruins as more than 1,000 men from the rich east Texas oil fields attacked the wreckage The two sobbing, hysterically weak clasped in each others arms under a protecting arch formed by falling debris

A woman teacher was rescued alive but injured after being buried nearly six hours

Frantic mothers and fathers spent last night attempting to find their children in the more than a dozen improvised morgues

Workers worked as they bored into an almost impregnable mass of ruin Others stripped to the waist fumbled out of dirt clouds for fresh air and plunged back for more diggings

Gas Accumulation Blamed

Supt W C Shaw who stood outside on the grounds and barely escaped death from debris that flew 600 yards in all directions said it was quite possible unburned gas from the nearby field has accumulated in basement recesses and hollow tile and finally gave way to spontaneous combustion His son was killed

The odor of gas had been strong for weeks he commented

Several survivors of the tragedy said gas fumes had bothered them recently

Scattering parents waited to claim their dead Only a bare split wall was left standing of the three story main building

Rescue efforts were concentrated at the site of the auditorium where most of the 700 high school students were gathered when the walls which [illegible] roof sank in [illegible] fell [illegible] rushing fire upon the collapsing structure

Had Dismissed Classes

Forty five minutes [illegible] the difference between life and death for the students

Plans had been made promptly to [illegible] the [illegible] that could [illegible] field medical Later it was decided to release only the [illegible] and those who were among the few survivors

Hundreds of grade [illegible] students had been dismissed from nearby buildings

Churches clubs and hospitals [illegible] were crowded with the dead and injured

Two or three minutes later the [illegible] was [illegible] and he was rushed to a hospital

Expressions of condolence [illegible] pitch in telegraph offices

[illegible] never [illegible] We have found Vale was recorded We have found Mary mother and I don't think she suffered much Her face had cut of a small on it

Can you come I am crew I am they haven't found the boy yet

The parade stood silently in a vast semi circle around the shattered building Occasionally workers would pause while a tiny body was lifted from beneath brick and steel Stretchers were there and parents surged forward to peer at the form and wear America's

Finest Low-Priced Clothes

There are just a few more days left in which to get ready for the year's greatest dress-up party. Don't let them pass without visiting our store and getting an eye-full of our large, complete selection of new Spring suits and topcoats

Actually, it is more than a clothes selection. It's a demonstration of a reliable clothes maker's loyalty to quality. It's a style show of all that's new, smart and becoming. It's a display of the greatest values you've seen in a men's clothing store in more than twenty years.

When we say value, we mean 100% virgin wool fabrics. We mean honest, quality workmanship inside as well as out. We mean that we stick to our standards. Cutting quality to meet a price is not our way of doing business.

Richman Brothers Clothes save you substantial amounts of money. But now, as always, we do so by making our own clothes and selling them direct, from our factory to you without middleman's profit. Now, as always, Richman Brothers Clothes are America's greatest values.
